

Nicole Matthews
Entrepreneur

Global Event, Travel & Lifestyle
Concierge | Author | Speaker |
Experience Seeker

Explore Gold Medal Ways To Ask For Olympic Sized Opportunities

As an event planner and lover of sports, Nicole Matthews has always considered the Olympics as the ultimate professional project. Her dream was to work at the 2012 Summer Olympics in London.

With intention and drive, Nicole created an opportunity for herself to work with one of the major Olympic sponsors; which led to the ultimate Olympic experience. She is a champion of asking others for help. Nicole walks the audience through the process of dreaming about working the Olympics to actually getting the ultimate assignment. She is happy to share her formula for success – and it all starts with asking for help!

In this dynamic presentation, you will discover...

1. How to turn your dream into a reality
2. What to include in your pitch
3. Who you should ask for help

Meet Nicole Matthews: She Practices What She Teaches

As an in-demand speaker on entrepreneurship and personal development, Nicole has presented across the globe, including Scotland and Mexico. She is also the author of Permission: Stop Competing and Start Creating the Life You Want to Live, and owner of The Henley Co, a global event, travel and lifestyle management firm. In all aspects of her work, Nicole champions the importance of designing an authentic and prosperous life!

NICOLE MATTHEWS
Speaker | Author | Entrepreneur

+1.619.757.6551 Nicole@NicoleMatthews.com www.NicoleMatthews.com